

Dear Senators,

Please consider our petitions calling for unconditional confirmation of Richard Cordray as Director of the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau.

These petitions, organized by Consumers Union, Americans for Financial Reform, the AFL-CIO, the National Council of La Raza, US PIRG, and other organizations, have been signed by more than 160,000 people in every state of the union.

President Obama has re-nominated Richard Cordray as Director of the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau. He is eminently qualified. Consumer, community, civil rights and also many industry leaders agree that he has done an excellent job leading the Bureau thus far. We urge you to act swiftly to confirm him.

The CFPB was created to address a huge problem: a pattern of abusive and deceptive banking and lending that fed an epidemic of foreclosures, saddled millions of Americans with unmanageable debt, and triggered a financial and economic calamity. Under Richard Cordray's leadership, the Bureau has ably begun to fulfill its mission.

It is taking complaints from financial customers; fining banks that break the law and returning ill-gotten gains to their customers; cleaning up the mortgage marketplace; providing mortgage and student loan customers with "know before you owe" tips; protecting service-members and their families from rip-offs; and even regulating the previously-mysterious world of credit scoring. It's doing all this with a refreshing candor and transparency and outreach to the public, and with steady oversight from Capitol Hill.

To those Senators who have said they will not consider any nominee unless and until the bureau is weakened we say: It is time to change your position. We need the Bureau to be effective. We think it is wrong to hold up the nomination of a qualified leader, and hold hostage a law passed by Congress, signed by the President and supported by large majorities of the public, in order to further a political agenda or protect abusive lenders. It is bad for consumers, bad for responsible lenders, and bad for the broader economy.

The CFPB was created to address prolific abusive and deceptive lending practices that caused an epidemic of foreclosures, afflicted millions of Americans with unmanageable debt, and triggered an ongoing economic calamity.

Under Richard Cordray's leadership, the CFPB has ably started fulfilling its mission by returning nearly half a billion dollars to consumers cheated by credit card companies, moving to end the era of mortgages designed to rake in up-front fees before they self-destruct, standing up for students and families trapped in high-cost education loans, and protecting military families against illegal foreclosures and deceptive education-loan practices. It is doing all this and more, while operating with refreshing candor, transparency, and frequent outreach to the public—all this with steady oversight from Capitol Hill.
