Whitehouse	3746	CFPA	Amendment would restore to the states the ability to enforce interest rate caps against out-of-state lenders, making it possible for State's to again effectively regulate in this area.	Support
Chambliss	3816	Derivatives	Amendment would dramatically weaken derivatives regulation by: reducing the number of entities subject to comprehensive regulation of capital, margin, business practices, etc; reducing the proportion of the derivatives market required to clear; and eliminating exchange trading requirements.	Oppose
Franken	3991		To take on conflicts of interest at credit rating agencies by instructing the SEC to assign rating agencies rather than allowing issuers to choose.	Support
Reed	3943		To establish a specific consumer protection liaison for service members and their families, and for other purposes. Co-sponsor Brown (MA)	Support
Corker	3955		The amendment would replace the risk retention provision of the bill - designed to make lenders and securitizers take responsibility for loans they originate and package - with a study; prevent the CFPB from addressing mortgage issues; and make it harder for families to purchase a home even when responsible underwriting determines they can afford to.	Oppose
Merkley	3962		To prohibit certain payments to loan originators and to require verification by lenders of the ability of consumers to repay loans	Support

Sessions	3832		The amendment fails to update the FDIC Resolution Authority system that has worked well for banks for 75 years. Updating the system was a key victory to prevent bailouts of Wall Street banks and financial firms.	Oppose
Durbin	3989		The Durbin amendment addresses unfair practices by credit card networks against merchants accepting credit or debit cards that raise the prices paid by all consumers, including cash customers.	Support
Corker	4034		Stealth attempt to allow banks to escape from consumer protection by preventing AGS from enforcing CFPB rules and by making it easier for national banks to ignore state laws.	Oppose
Brown	3733		Propose imposition of leverage requirements on bank holding companies and financial companies, namely leverage ratios limits, concentration limits, limit non-deposit liabilities and creation of annual capital assessment.	Support
Thune	3987		Sunset Bureau of Consumer Financial Protection after four years	Oppose
Shelby	3826		Undermines the authority of the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau by making it a division of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC).	Oppose
